Winemaker's Comments:

This wine is named after Zina Hyde Cunningham son's daughter. Veola, who was always enthusiastic about her father's wine production, requested her father plant Petite Sirah in his Zinfandel Vineyard. William was more than happy at Veola's participation in the family business. The Petite Sirah was fuller in body than Veola thought it would be. To calm the rampant tannins, Veola and William blended Zinfandel with the Petite Sirah. Like Veola originally did, we blended our Zinfandel and Petite Sirah, making this truly a rich blend in flavor and history.

Upon opening, our Veola greets you with enchanting floral notes that set the stage for an unforgettable experience. Dive into a symphony of blackberry and blueberry aromas, tantalizing the senses with each swirl of the glass. A harmonious blend of black and blue fruit unfolds on the complex palate, revealing layers of depth and complexity. Indulge in a finish that is as smooth as velvet, leaving behind lingering nuances of dark cherry and chocolate.
